Kohima, June 17 (EMN): Amid the simmering tension in Manipur after the ethnic clashes that erupted earlier last month, youths from eight states of the Northeast India, who gathered in Nagaland for the Northeast National Service Scheme (NSS) Festival, were told to spread the message of peace.

The five-day festival, which started on June 13 on the theme "Youth - the change makers", concluded on the 17th. It was organised by NSS Cell Nagaland, department of Youth Resources and Sports, at St. Joseph's College, Jakhama (Autonomous).

Speaking during the valedictory function on Saturday, Kethosituo Sekhose, Director of Youth Resources and Sports, Government of Nagaland, stressed the need to spread the message of peace throughout the Northeast, which he said, is the need of the hour.

Despite the diversities, rich traditions and cultural heritages, there is a common trait in yearning for peace and development in each and every part of the region, he said. "It is only through peace, an atmosphere of learning can be achieved," he added.

Sekhose also appealed to the delegates from the violent-hit Manipur to convey the message of peace back home.

Treat others the way you want others to treat you; don't dominate or oppress others which is against the principles of equality, respect and fairness, he told the gathering.

The official also asked the NSS volunteers to propagate whatever good they learned during the festival to others and take home sweet memories of Nagaland.

Zeneikho-o Pfukha (Benedict), State NSS Officer, informed that the festival was held with the objectives to instill the values of good ethics, behaviour, group living and dignity of labour; to inculcate the values of social harmony and national integration as well as to develop leadership quality among the youths of the Northeast.

The mega event, which was sanctioned by the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Regional Directorate of NER NSS, Guwahati, for 300 NSS contingents from all the eight northeastern states, was also aimed at informing the youngsters about career prospects and employability as well as different social and youth-related issues.

Speaking during the valedictory programme, NC Deori, Youth Officer, NER NSS, Guwahati; and Prof. Bendang Ao, PC, NSS Cell Nagaland University, Lumami, stressed the need to go beyond voluntary service and promote peace. Sikkim contingent presented a song, while Mizoram contingent performed a cultural dance and PG Tripura, Saibal Debbarma gave a report of the festival.

The five-day festival saw several resource persons discussing various youth-related issues and other topics such as yoga, self-defense, substance abuse, introduction to mission LIFE, nature cure, personality development, life skills, and youth and peace development in Northeast India. They were also given tips on how to write CV/resume and face interviews.

Besides engaging in various activities, the delegates visited villages and tourist spots like Khonoma and Kohima War Cemetery, and carried out cleanliness drive at Kisama Heritage village.

The gathering also observed a moment of silence during the occasion as a sign of solidarity to Manipur, which is hit by violence since early last month.

(A) Jakhama. The programme was moderated by Esther T. Yeptho of MA 3rd semester, Department of Sociology.

There were two teams and each consisting of 5 participants. The 3rd semester spoke in favour of 'LGBTQ rights should be legalized in Nagaland', while 1st semester were against it. The participants who spoke in favour of the topic were Alio T. Kithan, Keneisezo Thomas Belho, Hito Yeptho, Vikusanu Yiene, Visedenuo, and the participants who spoke against were Chanreiwunghi P. Shatsang, Nekie Nagi, Visanuo Rio, Mhasilevo Kutso, Moamerenla. Judges for the debate were the department faculties, Dr. Medonuo Pienyu (HOD), Dr. Hormila G. While the opposition team countered the argument stating that LGBTQ is more recognised in the Western countries, and that it is too early to discuss in the context of Naga society. Same sex marriage is against nature itself and is a taboo in the Naga society.

The debate was won by the Proposition team, two best debaters were declared, one in favour of 'LGBTQ rights should be legalized in Nagaland' secured by Hito Yeptho, another in favour of 'LGBTQ rights should not be legalised in Nagaland' secured by Chanreiwunghi P. Shatsang.

Dr. Fr. Pezalhoukho George Rino, PG Co-ordinator SJC (A) Jakhama congratulated the participants by saying that it was a way to come forward giving the students the opportunity to evolve in addressing issues in social and political concerns.

Dr. Medonuo Pienyu (HOD) Department of Sociology SJC (A) concluded saying that the Nagas have adopted modern principles and culture. Being a Christian state, being so much rooted into tradition, are we truly prepared to accept such changes in our culture?

Dr. (Fr.) George Kedoulhou Angami, the Principal of the College gave the welcome address. In his welcome address he acknowledged and appreciated the ICPR, New Delhi for sponsoring the Celebration of International Day of Yoga, 2022 for St. Joseph's College (Autonomous). He informed the audience that the United Nations General Assembly in 2014 declared 21st June every year as International Day of Yoga, and 2015 onwards 21st June has become a worldwide event in celebrating the Yoga Day. Speaking on the importance of Yoga and its benefits he pinpoint how the Western Nations recognised the importance of Yoga and embraced wholeheartedly whereas, in our country which is the birth place of Yoga and its practices, and especially the North East region yoga is viewed with much scepticism. Shunning the scepticism rounding Yoga and its practices, he asserted that it is time for our region too to view Yoga and its practices with positivity, and embraced it for self enhancement and for the whole human race as the theme goes – Yoga for Humanity. Welcoming the participants, he appreciated their zeal and enthusiasm to be part of the Celebration of International Day of Yoga, 2022 at St. Joseph's College (Autonomous), Jakhama, in spite of heavy down pour. The Celebration of International Day of Yoga, 2022 at St. Joseph's College was divided into three sessions - a whole day celebration i.e., i) Academic inputs on Yoga, ii) Yoga Demonstration and Practices, and iii) Social work. However, the III Session could not be carried out/implemented due have down pouring of rain. Nevertheless, the first two sessions were fruitfully and seriously conducted to the satisfaction of all the participants. Given below is a brief account of the first two sessions, which were successfully addressed to.

Academic inputs on Yoga: On the academic front, Dr. Dominic Meyieho, The Controller of Examinations and a former faculty of Philosophy deliberated on Yoga – Everyday Every Moment Activity. Connecting with the Theme of the Celebration – Yoga for Humanity, the resource person reminded and asserted that the Human Person is Being with others, a physical being and a mental/psychological/spiritual Being, and the Yoga and its practices encompasses all these realities of the human person. The speaker has also delved into the etymological meaning of Yoga and the traces of Yoga as found in the Upanishads, Manusmriti and the Bhagavad Gita. Thus asserting that Yoga and its practices are ancient and wisdom of the past and not a recently born concept or techniques or practices. The different types of Yoga such as Jnana Yoga, Bhakti Yoga and Karma Yoga were also brought to light. Reference of Yoga as one of the 9th Indian Schools (6 Orthodox and 3 Heterodox), the speaker deliberated Yoga as the only practical Indian school of thoughts, which is based on a sound psychological foundation. As the Indian practical school of thought based on sound psychological foundation, one of the most important entities in the Yoga School of thought is the citta (Mind). The mind (Citta) undergoing modifications (citta-vritti) and afflictions (Kleshas) - Ignorance/Avidya, Egoism/Asmita, Attachment/Raga, Aversion/Dvesa, and Will to live/Abinivesa.

Further on aligning with the theme – Yoga for Humanity, the resource person reminded the august gathering the goals of life and education (Purusarthas), whereby every person is called to be a Yogic person in all true sense - living a conscious human life totally absorbed in what is expected of her/him according to the goals of life – Purusarthas i.e., by one's right conduct (Dharma), one has to attain wealth and meaning in life (Artha), the wealth and meaning (Artha), which one attained through right conduct (Dharma) is to be enjoyed (Kama) in a good way. Kama stands for pleasure, enjoyment, entertainment, re-creation, which is a psychological need of every person, however Kama here does not refer to sinful or cheap forms of pleasure, enjoyment, entertainment and recreation which are due to overcoming by emotions and impulses of the senses. Thus if the above three trivargas – Dharma, Artha and Kama are taken care of liberation (Moksa) is effortless needing no extra time and energy. However, as human as we are, a person is often overcome by ignorance (Avidya) and forget the goals and become egoistic needing a path/means (marga) to let go the asmita (ego). Thus, the Raja-marga Yoga or the Astanga Yoga as an aid to arrest the affliction of the mind and control the senses.

Insisting on the theme – Yoga for Humanity, the resource person emphatically asserted that no true practice of Yoga is possible without the ethical/moral code of life (Living with others) alongside with the other two entities of life – physical and mental/psychological/spiritual. Indeed, the gate way to the Yoga – Union/total absorption/concentration (Samadhi) is the ethical/moral code of conduct of life. The speaker emphasized that the Raja-marga Yoga take care of all the three dimensions of the human person namely – ethical/moral code of conduct (Living with other persons), Physical and Mental/Psychological/Spiritual in the 8 limbs of the Yoga (Astanga yoga).

The resource person patiently but intellectually explained the 8 limbs of Yoga, and classified the first two limbs of the Yoga i.e., Yama and Niyama as addressing the ethical/moral code of conduct, 3,4 and 5 limbs i.e., Asana, Pratyahara and Pranayama as addressing the physical aspect of the human person, and the last three (6,7 &8) i.e., Dharana, Dhyana and Samadhi as targeting on mental/psychological/spiritual dimensions of the person. Thus, Yoga is everyday every moment activity and Yoga, and its practices cannot be confined to one religion/tradition because the goal of every religion/tradition is to make human true humane whereby every human being learns to live with other beings, enjoy good health and physique and have a healthy-serene mind and divinity of the soul.

Yoga Demonstration and Practices: Mr. Christopher Paphino, the Physical Instructor soon after the Academic session led the august gathering into Yoga demonstration and practices i.e., the 12 Asanas (12 Basic Postures). Mr. Paphino first demonstrated the 12 Yoga Asanas, and made the participants to follow each of the 12 Asanas. However, before jumping into the different postures of the Yoga, Mr. Paphino conducted a 10 minutes warm-up exercises of stretching and flexing the muscles and joints. Then on, the Physical Instructor carefully and craft fully led the novices of Yoga into the practices. The 12 Basic Postures demonstrated and practiced during this session were as follows:

- 1) Headstand (Śīrṣāsana)
- 2) Shoulder-stand (Sarvāṅgāsana)
- 3) Plough (Halāsana)
- 4) Fish (Matsyāsana)
- 5) Sitting Forward Bend (Paschimthanāsana)
- 6) Cobra (Bhujangāsana)
- 7) Locust (Salabhāsana)
- 8) Bow (Dhanurāsana)
- 9) Half Spinal Twist (Ardha Matsyendrāsana)
- 10) Crow (Kakāsana)
- 11) Standing Forward Bend (Pada Hasthāsana), and
- 12) Triangle (Trikonāsana)

Of the 12 Yoga Asanas, the first two Asanas – Headstand and Shoulder-stand, and the eighth Asana – Bow prove challenging to the novices of Yoga practice. The Instructor however, carefully demonstrated and explained the benefits of them all. While demonstrating the different posture and during the practice of the different Asanas, he also advised them not to force or strain their muscles, but slow and steadily do them every day and soon they will be able to perfect them. Other than the above mentioned three asanas, the other postures were performed with ease. Thus, with instructions, demonstration and practices this session took 1 hour and twenty minutes. To the joy and encouragement of everyone, the Principal of the College – Dr. George Keduolhou Angami participated in all the different postures of the Yoga. For the demonstration and practices two large mats were laid out for the participants to follow and practice the different asanas in the Indoor Stadium. The Physical Instructor on completion of demonstration and practices of Yoga did not abruptly end the session but just the way the warm-up exercises were conducted, likewise a post-work outs were attended to make the participants enjoy and relax on what they have performed.

As per the order of the Programme, soon after the Academic talk, Captain Regina Razousinuo pronounced the Vote of Thanks. Capt. Regina whole-heartedly thanked the Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi for sponsoring the Celebration of International Day of Yoga, 2022 for St. Joseph's College (Autonomous), Jakhama and making it an eventful day. Thus, the Celebration of International Yoga Day, 2022 came to an end with a lunch at 12.30 PM for all the Participants at the College Canteen – Heaven's Dew. citations, paraphrasing, quotations and summarising are the different ways that one can employ while using the idea/writings of someone else to substantiate our work. Guest speaker and college officials initiating the fest on Friday.

The 8th Spring Fest organised by St Joseph's College (autonomous) Jakhama, began on Friday under the theme "Honouring Roots".

Guest speaker, director, Task Force for Music and Arts (TaFMA), Dr. Hovithal Sothu, called on the students not to be shy about their roots and origins whatever way it might be.

Stressing on the theme, Dr. Sothu said one way to honour one's roots was to take the good values of the culture and make them grow. While another way to honour it was to let go of the unpleasant practices followed in one's culture and traditions. He urged them to continue following the good and pleasant things at the same time leave the rest behind.

Expressing his appreciation over the cultural diversity and management of such events by the students, Dr. Sothu exhorted them to keep up such good habits of living together in unity and peace in spite of the differences.

Pointing out the end product an ideal student should be, Dr. Sothu encouraged them to be assets of the society and not liabilities which would in turn make them good citizens and also help them achieve their dreams.
