PROJECT WORK

Objective:

To inculcate the students' ability to apply their theoretical knowledge and skills developed during the course of the study and apply it in the field. They have to collect, analyse, interpret data and prepare a report of their findings on some topics suggested to them or of their interest in consultation with the supervisor/ guide. This will teach them the general understanding of research and the methodology of collecting information and of preparing written work along with understanding the importance and value of field work.

Some other objectives are: -

1. To develop an understanding of various research designs and techniques.
2. To identify appropriate research topics
3. select and define appropriate research problem and parameters
4. to impart knowledge and understanding of data analysis and interpretation in relation to the research process
5. write a research report and thesis

Outcomes:

1. Apply a range of quantitative and / or qualitative research techniques to business and management problems / issues
2. Understand and apply research approaches, techniques and strategies in the appropriate manner for managerial decision making
3. Develop necessary critical thinking skills in order to evaluate different research approaches utilised in the business sector
4. Students should be able to identify the overall process of designing a research study from its inception to its report.
5. Familiar with good practices in conducting a qualitative interview and observation

PROJECT WORK

Objective:

To inculcate the students' ability to apply their theoretical knowledge and skills developed during the course of the study and apply it in the field. They have to collect, analyse, interpret data and prepare a report of their findings on some topics suggested to them or of their interest in consultation with the supervisor/ guide. This will teach them the general understanding of research and the methodology of collecting information and of preparing written work along with understanding the importance and value of field work.

Some other objectives are: -

1. To develop an understanding of various research designs and techniques.
2. To identify appropriate research topics
3. select and define appropriate research problem and parameters
4. to impart knowledge and understanding of data analysis and interpretation in relation to the research process
5. write a research report and thesis

Outcomes:

1. Apply a range of quantitative and / or qualitative research techniques to business and management problems / issues
2. Understand and apply research approaches, techniques and strategies in the appropriate manner for managerial decision making
3. Develop necessary critical thinking skills in order to evaluate different research approaches utilised in the business sector
4. Students should be able to identify the overall process of designing a research study from its inception to its report.
5. Familiar with good practices in conducting a qualitative interview and observation
